

The Christian Hypocrite Church

By Naman Crowe

From now on, I want everyone on here who claims to be a Christian to honor their faith by not allowing the sewer to drain from their mouths. A sewer mouth, dripping with cruelty in order to get a laugh, should not be the same mouth that praises God on Sunday.

If a person wants to shine themselves up with their Christianity, they should maintain a decent mouth at all times. I am sick and tired of the hate-filled slop coming from the mouths of those who claim to be Christians. I have heard more unseemly and unjust opinions coming from Christians than I can stomach.

How hard can it be? You want to praise Jesus this Sunday? But in the meantime you want to run your filthy, disgraceful mouth and show your cruel disrespect for others, your racism and your perverted hate for your president, your hate for homosexuals and people who have had a sex change. Right, all you have to do is put on your Christian clothes and go to church. It's just that easy.

You hypocrites. You've created yourselves a dumbass God who can't hear you when you are running your filthy, lying mouth and being unkind and disrespectful to other humans. All you have to do to fool God's ass is put on your church clothes and go to God's House, because you believe that God is so stupid that he can't tell the difference, and can't hear you when you are being your bad self.

You make Christianity as easy as changing your clothes and going to church. Other than that, you can be just as rotten and lowdown as you please. You can tell lies on people. You can backstab people. You can denigrate them. You can be just as greedy and selfish, and heartless as you want. You can tell others that they are going to hell, and that they should go to hell because they are not Christians.

How a Christian can believe that God is not listening to them when the filthy hate and cruel words are coming from their mouths, but listens to every word when they are in church, and when they are praying and running their prayer lines, is a mystery. What can they be thinking? That God is just that much of a dumbass, and can be fooled that easily? Is it because they don't really believe in God at all? Is it all just a pretense?

When you realize that 75 percent of Americans claim to be Christians, you have to also figure in the fact that the great majority of Christians are just as full of lies and hate and slop jar sentiments, cruelty and every form of perversion, immorality and hypocrisy that you can write down and categorize. And all they have to do to get to heaven is to claim that they are Christians.

If they actually believe in God, they have to believe that their God is a stupid idiot. Their God would have to be a stupid idiot. If I can see through these lying hypocrites, why shouldn't their God be able to? Even the lying hypocrites know that they are lying hypocrites. They won't admit it, but they know it inside their brains. They are not worried about fooling God. Fooling the people satisfies their appetite just as good.

These fake Christians are not hard to detect. Listen to the words that come from their mouths. Their words will tell you exactly what church they go to. They belong to the Christian Hypocrite Church.
