

- All TUoS research and innovation projects must consider safeguarding issues.
- The TUoS policy website has checklists and template plans for how this should be considered and implemented by the research team.
- For projects which do not require ethics approval and only involve TUoS staff and students, existing routes are available for reporting safeguarding concerns.
- For studies involving research participants, external partners and/or wider stakeholders (e.g. public, non project partners) projects need to develop a dedicated safeguarding plan and identify designated safeguarding contacts to report concerns.
- For further details see the policy website on Research Services webpages - <https://www.sheffield.ac.uk/rs/ethicsandintegrity/safeguarding>
